Expert Advice to Better Prepare for Litigation

As a legal professional at a law firm or corporation, you'll need to be able to immediately identify and locate all data that you or your client may have a duty to preserve and potentially produce for prospective litigation. You risk possible delays, spoliation, and court sanctions by relying on internal resources to determine the scope and depth of discoverable electronically stored information.

RenewData's Client Advisory Services team – comprised of attorneys, electronic discovery experts, certified computer forensic experts, and expert witnesses – can provide the expertise and insight you need before, during, and following litigation. They enable you to quickly understand, identify, locate, review and produce potentially relevant data in a defensible manner to seamlessly proceed through all phases of the discovery process whenever necessary.

RenewData's team of experts can assist you in "meet and confer" conferences, litigation response plans for case specific needs, expert witness testimony to support your methodology, and sample reports to increase the relevancy and reduce the volume of potentially responsive data.

Meet and Confer Preparation

RenewData's Client Advisory Services team can assist companies with their 26 (f) "meet and confer" conferences by acting as an electronic discovery liaison. Some of the functions performed by RenewData in this capacity are:

- Creation of initial disclosures and advising companies regarding requests for data
- Selection of production formats and review options
- Design of statistical sampling protocols to lessen the burden of production
- Assistance with generating relevant documents and responses to discovery orders
- Meeting with internal staff and interviewing IT representatives in order to act as a third-party spokesperson for the IT department
- Documentation of relevant costs for "cost shifting" analysis

BENEFITS OF PLANNING SERVICES

RenewData eDiscovery Planning Services enable outside counsel to reduce the burden and costs of electronic discovery to clients by:

- Ensuring compliance with the rules of civil procedure and relevant case law as they relate to electronic discovery
- Maintaining an immediate response to litigation by having a written plan of action to follow at all times
- Having a defensible process throughout the entire discovery cycle

- Reducing review time, saving your client money, and spending more time on case strategy

Expert Advice to Better Prepare for Litigation

Litigation Response Planning

RenewData experts will work with you to implement a defensible, cost efficient, and successful plan for responding to litigation events. The Litigation Response Plan provides you a clear understanding regarding the state of your company's electronically stored information and ensures that you meet your legal obligations while minimizing expenses and business disruption.

Sampling

RenewData experts work with you to understand the intent of the search and the type of documents required to satisfy the discovery request. Our experts develop concise queries to produce the relevant results you need to arm yourself for your next "meet and confer", as well as design statistical sampling protocols to enable processing of the least possible amount of data.

Expert Witness

RenewData's legal and technical experts have provided Daubert-challenged testimony supporting electronic discovery results, chain-of-custody procedures, preservation techniques used, and accuracy of processed data. If the need arises during your case, our experts are available to testify.
